- 25X1X6 1. A letter of 15 September 1947 from the Baden Ministry for Agriculture and Food to the Agricultural Office (Landwirtschaftsamt) in Säckingen gives the official figures on amounts of food to be turned over to Baden food offices by producers in 1947 for the requirements of the German population and the French stationed in Baden. The following amounts are stated:

Milk: 222,031,500 liters (221,439 cows, 1002 liters of milk per cow per year)
Meat: 31,490 tons 9967 tons of beef
(Requirements for 1 April 1946 to 31 March 1947.) 2292 tons of veal
265 tons of mutton
18966 tons of pork

Oats: 5,315 tons

Hay: 10,010 tons

Straw: 1,950 tons

Potatoes: 133,087 tons 128,740 tons of winter potatoes

(To be delivered by 15 Sept. 1947) 4,347 tons of new potatoes

Rye, wheat, and barley in toto, deducting only allowed quotas for seeding.

2. How these amounts are distributed to the German and French population is difficult to say because of the confusing food request system. French food requests are sent to the Landkreise, and the Land government is not allowed to compile statistics on a Land basis. Moreover, requests vary from month to month; Landkreise Säckingen, for example, received meat requests from the French for 12 tons in July, eight tons in August, four tons in September, and six tons in October 1947.
3. In addition to the regular requests, special extra requests may be made. If there is an unusually large number of French in the Landkreise, for example, extra requests may be high. Besides the requests made to Landkreise, food may also be requested from distribution centers, as for instance meat from slaughter houses for the French.

25X1A2g [REDACTED] Comment: All French in Baden receive an average of four pounds of meat and one pound of butter a week.
